IMET2000 Has Awarded Health Scientific Books to Various Palestinian Universities

IMET2000 in partnership with Book Aid International-London granted health scientific books in the fields of (Medicine, Nursing, Dentistry and higher education) for each of the Arab American University-Jenin, An-Najah National University-Nablus, Modern University Collage-Ramallah and the last batch will send to Palestine Polytechnic University-Hebron. In this project, we have distributed 442 books. Now those books are an integral part of universities of what's made the libraries a haven for conversation, debate and learning. We are happy to see students exploring those books and getting the knowledge they need to complete their education and build their future.

IMET2000 Organised Advanced Trauma Life Support Training Course at IMET2000-Pal Training Centre

We have organised our 9th ATLS training course in Palestine. Palestinian instructors led this course; (Dr Fahmi Jubran (course director), Dr Ahmad Dalbah, Dr Dirar Zatar, Dr Amer AbuRumaila, Dr Mohammad Al Mohtaseb, and Dr Mourad Karajeh) and it was coordinated by our representative in Palestine, Mr Fady Zaben.

This course is a global course, teaching a systematic trauma care process for patients with life-threatening injuries.

The course was attended by 13 doctors from different hospitals (Jenin Governmental Hospital, Istishari Arab Hospital, Augusta Victoria Hospital, Al Ahli Hospital, Ibn Sina Specialised Hospital and Rafidia Hospital) at IMET2000-Pal Centre in Ramallah.

IMET2000 aims to continue delivering more ATLS courses until we get as many surgeons as possible trained in this vital field.

IMET2000-Pal Conducted the Second Volume of the Soft Skills Developmental Programme for Healthcare Professionals

IMET2000 has organised soft skills programme consisting of three sessions. The first session was titled "Leadership and Communication Skills for the Next Generation of Healthcare Professionals". The second session, named "CV Writing for Healthcare Professionals" aimed to teach participants how to create an exceptional resume. While the third session, "Interview Skills for Healthcare Professionals," aimed to improve participants' job interview performance. Dr Malik Zaben, CEO of IMET2000 led this programme. The aim of the programme was to equip students and graduates of healthcare disciplines with essential soft skills necessary for a job competition.

This Programme is a significant initiative designed by IMET2000-Pal to improve healthcare by enhancing healthcare professionals' communication, leadership, collaboration, creative problem-solving, and critical thinking skills. By doing so, the programme ultimately contributes to the development of healthcare.

IMET2000 Organised Three Basic Life Support Training Workshops this Month

IMET2000 in cooperation with the Arab American University (AAUP) - Jenin and the Modern University College (MUC) - Ramallah organised three training workshops attended by 27 doctors, nurses and interns from governmental and private hospitals on:

Critical Core Training: Basic Life Support (BLS) training for Healthcare Professionals

The workshops aim to train participants to promptly recognise several life-threatening emergencies, give high-quality chest compressions, deliver appropriate ventilations and provide early use of an AED.

They were led by certified instructors from American Heart Association(AHA).
